United States Department of Agriculture.

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY—CIRCULAR NO. 50.

D. E. SALMON, D. V. M., Chief of Bureau.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18, 1904.

SIR: I respectfully submit herewith the manuscript of an article entitled "Information for importers of animals for breeding purposes," prepared by Mr. George M. Rommel, B. S. A., expert in animal husbandry in this Bureau. It includes all the books of record of pedigrees certified by the Department to this date, together with all rulings of the Secretary of the Treasury under the provisions of paragraph 473 of the tariff act of July 24, 1897 (amended March 3, 1903). The publication of complete information regarding the certified associations and rulings and regulations of the Government will go far toward enlightening importers and do away with much of the confusion now attending the importation of domestic animals under the provisions of the act in question. I recommend that this article be published as a circular of this Bureau.

Respectfully,

D. E. SALMON,
Chief of Bureau.

Hon. JAMES WILSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

INFORMATION FOR IMPORTERS OF ANIMALS FOR BREEDING PURPOSES.

Much of the difficulty that an importer experiences when he arrives at a port of entry with animals for breeding purposes is due to his neglect to inform himself sufficiently regarding the requirements of the Treasury Department, or to his carelessness in examining certificates at the time animals were purchased abroad, or to the fact that, knowing his certificates are insufficient, he relies on "good luck," bravado, or influence to carry his importation through without the payment of duty. Many of the importers who have been compelled to deposit the prescribed duty on animals which they have imported during the past year have pleaded ignorance of the regulations as their excuse. This circular has been prepared to supplement the publications of the Treasury Department on the subject of the importation of breeding animals with the view of facilitating their entry at the ports.

Since February 27, 1793 (1 Stat., p. 199), except for four years—from May 16, 1866 (14 Stat., p. 48), to July 14, 1870 (16 Stat., p. 256)—the tariff laws have been so framed that animals imported for breeding purposes have been exempt from duty. After passing through various stages of development, the laws require that satisfactory evidence must be submitted that such animals are purebred, are of a recognized breed, and are duly registered in the books of record established for that breed. In addition, the Secretary of Agriculture is required to determine and certify to the Secretary of the Treasury what are recognized breeds and purebred animals. Paragraph 473 of the act of July 24, 1897, which applies in these cases, was amended by the act approved March 3, 1903, entitled "An act regulating the importation of breeding animals," so as to read as follows:

Any animal imported by a citizen of the United States specially for breeding purposes shall be admitted free, whether intended to be so used by the importer himself or for sale for such purpose: Provided, That no such animal shall be admitted free unless purebred of a recognized breed, and duly registered in the books of record established for that breed: And provided further, That certificate of such record and of the pedigree of such animal shall be produced and submitted to the customs officer, duly authenticated by the proper custodian of such book of record, together with the affidavit of the owner, agent, or importer that such animal is the identical animal described in said certificate of record and pedigree: And provided further, That the Secretary of Agriculture shall determine and certify to the Secretary of the Treasury what are recognized breeds and purebred animals under the provisions of this paragraph. The Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe such additional regulations as may be required for the strict enforcement of this provision. Cattle, horses, sheep, or other domestic animals straying across the boundary line into any foreign country, or driven across such boundary line by the owner for temporary pasturage purposes only, together with their offspring, may be brought back to the United States within six months free of duty, under regulations to be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: And provided further, That the provisions of this act shall apply to all such animals as have been imported and are in quarantine, or otherwise in the custody of customs or other officers of the United States, at the date of the passage of this act.

This is the act in force at the present time. The obligations of the Secretary of Agriculture are carried out by certifying to the Secretary of the Treasury the books of record of pedigrees both in the United States and countries beyond the seas which are in good repute and maintain a high standard of registration, and regulations have been framed to carry out the provisions of the act in this respect. It has been found best to adopt the policy of certifying no Canadian associations or books of record; but where animals have been bred in Canada and purchased for importation into the United States, they may be first registered in a certified book of record in this country and the provisions of the law complied with. The regulations of this Department governing the certification of books of record will be given in another circular of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

The list of certified books of record on the 30th of June, 1904, follows. In order to be imported free of duty, an animal must be registered in one of these books, according to the regulations below prescribed.

The regulations of the Treasury Department govern the passage of the animals through the customs and thus more immediately concern the importer. They are set forth in the circular of the Treasury Department concerning the importation of animals for breeding purposes, which circular also includes rulings of that Department made under the provisions of the act in question. Additional rulings have been published as instructions to customs officers; they are included in this circular as published to date:

REGULATIONS.

1. This paragraph refers to the revocation of previous circulars of the Treasury Department.

2. No animal imported for breeding purposes shall be admitted free of duty unless the importer furnishes a certificate of the record and pedigree in the form hereafter given in the appended list of registers, showing that the animal is purebred, and has been admitted to full registry, in a book of record established for that breed, and that its sire and dam and grandsires and granddams were all recorded in a book of record established for the same breed. An affidavit by the owner, agent, or importer that such animal is the identical animal described in said certificate of record and pedigree must be presented.

3. In the case of sheep, females are frequently recorded by flocks, and not individually; therefore, whenever the names of individual ancestors can not be given in the pedigree, the certificate should be filled out in such manner as to show the volume and page of the flock book in which the ancestors for two generations are recorded.

4. Unless the certificate of record and pedigree herein provided for is produced, the animal shall be considered dutiable as not being purebred of a recognized breed, and duly registered in the book of record established for that breed, and under no circumstances will officers of the customs accept certificates of record issued from books other than those mentioned in the accompanying list.

5. In case such certificate is not at hand at the time of the arrival of the animals, a voluntary bond may be given by the importer, in double the amount of the estimated duties, conditioned for the production of the requisite certificate within six months, subject to extension for a like period on application to the Secretary of the Treasury, and such bond shall be canceled only upon the production of a pedigree certificate conforming substantially to paragraph 10 of these regulations, or payment of full liquidated duties. Should the importer elect, estimated duties may be paid and a written stipulation filed with the collector within ten days thereafter to produce the requisite certificate within six months from date of entry, whereupon final liquidation will be suspended until the production of the certificate or the expiration of the six months; and upon the production of the requisite certificate in due form within six months from entry, the amount deposited shall be refunded as an excess of deposit.^a (T. D. 24772.)

6. Proof of the importation of animals for sale for breeding purposes must be produced, and the affidavit of the importer, first, that he is a citizen of the United States, and, second, that the animals are to be sold by him for breeding, may be accepted as prima facie evidence of those facts. The fact that the animals are of superior breed and accompanied by proper pedigree certificates establishes their status as breeding animals; and the use of such animals incidentally for driving or working would be no violation of the affidavit of the purchaser. In all cases the special purpose of breeding by the purchaser in the United States must be satisfactorily shown. Treasury decision 24356 of April 13, 1903, is modified accordingly.

^a In this connection reference is made to the ruling found in 5 Peters (p. 115), "a bond, voluntarily given to the United States and not prescribed by law, is a valid instrument upon the parties to it, in point of law."

7.^a Cases involving the sufficiency of pedigree certificates produced on stipulation under paragraph 5, and all cases of doubt in the minds of officers of the customs as to the citizenship of the importer, should be submitted to the Secretary of the Treasury for decision.

10. CERTIFICATE.

Form of certificate of record and pedigree to be used for imported animals.

[In filling up this blank give registry number of each recorded animal, or, in case there is no number, the volume and page of register where the animal is recorded. See Department's ruling of November 14, 1902 (T. D. 24050), and paragraph 17 hereof. In the case of sheep registered by flocks the volume and page of the flock book in which flock is registered must be given as provided in the regulations.]

MEMORANDUM OF RULINGS.

11. Animals registered in proper books of record within six months subsequent to importation, entitled to free entry. (T. D. 11110, 20384, 20743, 20811.)

12. Pedigree certificates may be returned to importers and copies retained on files of the custom-house. (T. D. 19926.)

13. Animals otherwise entitled to free entry are not excluded because too young to be physically qualified for breeding when imported. (T. D. 2860, 5556, 8356, 8470.)

14. At least two generations of ancestors must appear in certificates of pedigree accompanying sheep imported for breeding purposes. (T. D. 17703, 20112.)

15. Wild animals and reptiles not entitled to free entry when imported for breeding purposes. (T. D. 5654, 5712, 12429, 16439.)

16. Trotting registers not accepted as evidence of pure breed of horses. (T. D. 10840, 11192.)

17. Acceptance may be allowed of pedigree certificates of animals stating volume, and failing to give number of page, but otherwise correct, upon a sworn statement on the certificate of pedigree that the book in which the animal is recorded has not been but is to be printed. (T. D. 24050.)

18. Transportation under the immediate-transportation act of animals imported for breeding purposes allowed only when caged, crated, or boxed. (T. D. 23135.)

^a Paragraphs 8 and 9 of the Treasury Department circular include certified American and foreign books. The numbering of paragraphs has been adhered to for the sake of uniformity.

19. Oath of shipper of animals for breeding purposes to be taken before a consular officer, instead of a local magistrate. (T. D. 16462.) Separate oaths of shippers or importers not required for each animal, but for each class. Sale of blanks by officers of the customs. (T. D. 17618.)

20. Relation of Kennel Gazette to English Kennel Club Studbook. (T. D. 24570.)

21. Proof of pedigree in proper form shall be submitted to the customs officer, and not filed with the Board of General Appraisers. (T. D. 25023, par. 357; 25385, par. 1858.)

22. The word "animal," as used in paragraph 473, tariff act of 1897, is restricted in its application to quadrupeds such as horses, cattle, sheep, swine, cats, dogs, etc., and would not include fowl. Plymouth Rock hens imported for breeding purposes, but not shown to be registered in a book of record established for that breed, held dutiable as "poultry" under paragraph 278 of the tariff act of 1897, and not free as animals imported for breeding purposes under paragraph 473, nor as "birds and land and water fowls" under paragraph 494. (T. D. 25132—G. A. 5619.)

23. Necessity of care in filing certificates. (T. D. 25385, par. 1858.)

24. Borden v. United States, United States circuit court, southern district of New York: Held that the requirement in the regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury that proof should be produced of the registry of the grandsires and granddams of animals imported for breeding purposes is not in contravention of the statute and is valid. Application to review a decision of the Board of General Appraisers. (T. D. 25390.)

25. Withdrawal of certification of Select Clydesdale Studbook, Flock Book of the National Cheviot Sheep Society, American Lincoln Record, Improved Black Top Merino Record, National Improved Saxony Sheep Register, American Merino Sheep Register, Register of the Missouri Merino Sheep Breeders' Association, Register of the United States Merino Sheep Breeders' Association, Register of the Vermont Atwood Merino Sheep Club, Wisconsin Merino Sheep Register, Northwestern Poland China Swine Record, Record of the American Small Yorkshire Club. Bona fide certificates of registration in above books of record issued prior to July 1, 1904, to be accepted by officers of the customs. (T. D. 25415.)
